

5. Leader of true heroes, possessor of infinite wealth, mount thy formidable car for the arduous conflict: come to me, pursuer of a forward path, for my protection: do thou, who art renowned, proclaim (our renown) amongst men.

StfKTA IX. (XXXII.)

Deity, ffwA/, and metre as before.

1. I have fabricated with my mouth unprecedented, ^{Vai_s^a Iv.} comprehensive, and gratifying praises to that mighty, heroic, powerful, rapid, adorable, arid ancient widdirr of the thunderbolt.¹

2. He has obtained the parent (worlds, heaven and earth), with the sun, for the sake of the sages, (the ANGIJUSAS. and, glorified (by them), he has shattered the mountain: repeatedly ivUhed for by his adorers intently meditating (upon him), he has cast off
 the
 fetters of the kine.

^ 3. He, the achiever of many deeds, together with his worshippers ever offering obhitiuns upon bonded knees, has overcome (the Asuras') for (the rescue of) the cows: friendly with his friends (the ANCHIASASJ, far-seeing with the fur-seeing, the destroy^ of cities has demolished the strung citito (of the Awn).

4. Showerer (of benefits), propitiated by praise, come 10 him who glorifies thee, to make him happy amongst men with abundant food, with excec-Jing strength, and with young (mart*) with numerous colts.

¹This verse occur, Samu-Vulo i. &t, bui 0^«^7f"ih"e tat ponion ,o»c»h« TH*. in ,l,- pri,,i,d edition : ins,tad. of tk, they lav, ^l_{Jr}iCdte d pri,c.s to .hat ancient, to.
 ,

 i* in.n.rWMtt are ttu ^M *j Sdy_{aa} <, , , , , , .